

This Document is to inform, explain, and introduce my philosophy regarding rates and money exchange.

It is the nature of my work that I serve people from various walks of life. As such, there can be quite a disparity between those who have and those who have less. Mostly, I am fortunate to have people who are able to afford my services. Sometimes however, people I work with can pay me very little, and sometimes they can't pay me at all.

Because this is the case, I have adapted a financial philosophy in which, rather than following a fixed rate, each person contributes according to their financial stability. So far this has worked well, and has been a welcome invitation by most of my clients. It has also given me the opportunity to work with people that otherwise could not afford to work with me.

As with each and every one of my clients, so with you, I present this document to outline the various rate categories that make sense to me. You are welcome to choose the category that describe you most, and within that category the rate that feels right to you. As always it is important that you decided what is right for you. There is no forcing on my part, and this is all to support both of us, and the greater healing community at large.

Here are the categories:.

1. $0-$200 Low to Modest means

You are struggling, or have very modest means, are a student, an intern, small business owners etc ..

2. $200-300 Comfortable

You have a stable income, are not wealthy, but have enough disposable income, for going to nice restaurants, and going on a nice vacation.

3. $300-400 Wealthy

You are not worried about money. You can afford a luxury life style, new car, house, etc .. You have a very high paying job, own a company, or are independently wealthy.

4. $400-500 Class leading

This is for those who are usually exceptional at what they do, and have class leading capacities, or are just ultra wealthy.

Thank you for considering
